Council get tough over lack of play area funds

EAST Devon District Council has decided to play hardball with a developer in Axminster over an alleged failure to finance play facilities on three new housing estates.

But the company involved, Wain Homes, says it is not aware of any concerns.

As part of their planning approval for the three developments off Chard Road Wain Homes had to agree to provide a play area under planning gain legislation known as a Section 106 agreement.

Wain Homes has completed two developments and the third, Millbrook Meadows, is under construction. No play facilities were provided for the first two estates area but it was then agreed that the third development should have a larger one serving all three.

East Devon District Council claims that money for the play area has not materialised, and has decided to take action

The precise method of action has not been revealed, but options available include seeking an injunction or serving a statutory demand for payment.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "The open space provision on this development will now be made as part of phase three, which is now under construction."

"The open space area will make up for the developer's failure to make the required provision on earlier phases."

"The developer is required to make a financial contribution to enable this open space area to be provided."

"The developer has failed to make this payment at the required time and as such the council is taking appropriate action to secure this payment and compliance with several other outstanding matters relating to the development."

Wain Homes senior planner Simon Cater expressed surprise, though, when asked for comment.

AXMINSTER Guildhall saw a steady flow of people through its doors for the multi-agency flood surgery. Officers from Devon County Council, the Environment Agency, East Devon District Council and Axminster Town Council were at hand to discuss issues that arose from the severe floods in early July. Among those who attended were Haxzel and Tony Mogford pictured with Environment Agency's Andrew Latham.

“IT IS very early days, but we have been really heartened by the support there is for the church in the local community and we are now looking to build on that, to grow the church and further God's mission in Honiton”

Good start for Mary

Paedophile jailed for 18 months

A MAN from Colyton has been jailed for 18 months after exchanging indecent images of children to fellow paedophiles.

Exeter Crown Court heard on Thursday how Adrian White, of Colyton Hill, had used the alias "Mr Grippy" when exchanging the extreme images.

The 52-year-old (pictured left) admitted to 23 counts of making or possessing indecent images and four counts of distributing them.

They included images of sadism involving children as young as one.

The judge described them as "shameful offences".

From the editor's chair Safety first on our cliffs

FOLLOWING the tragedy at Burton Bradstock last week when a cliff-fall killed a young holidaymaker strolling along the beach, East Devon District Council moved quickly to ensure that all possible precautions were taken to avoid any similar incidents.

With a substantial cliff fall at Sidmouth's East Beach and a significant section of Old Beer Road in Seaton collapsing, the district council was taking no chances.

Along the West Walk at Seaton a number of landslides resulted in the beach huts being pushed forward onto the footpath.

At Axmouth harbour 15,000 tonnes of rock slipped onto the top of the harbour way.

Sidmouth's distinctive red cliffs and the limestone cliffs at Beer have become iconic sights and East Devon is blessed with a magnificent coastline which attracts many thousands of people walking the coastal footpath every summer.

But large sections of the path and some beaches have been declared out of bounds following a number of landslides along the Jurassic Coast caused by the recent heavy rainfall, followed by baking hot weather, prompting a warning from geologists that more significant falls could happen at any time.

East Devon's portfolio holder for the environment, Councillor Iain Chubb, whilst expressing the view that they wanted visitors to enjoy our "fabulous coastline", urged walkers to pay attention to the signs and not get too close to the cliffs.

Holiday tragedies are an all-too frequent occurrence in any coastal area but the district council left no stone unturned to minimise the risk to those who enjoy a break in this beautiful part of the country.

◆ IN last week's column I poured expected scorn on the Olympic Games' opening ceremony, predicting it would crass and costly. How wrong could I have been?

It was simply breathtaking. Unique and awe-inspiring. Let's hope the the achievements of GB athletes live up to it - and as we go to press it would certainly seem that Salcombe Regis' Mary King is doing just that in the eventing.

HONITON

A PROPOSED church closure in Honiton could be avoided if two working groups are successful.

Honiton Parochial Church Council has applied to the Diocese of Exeter for permission to close St Michael's Church because of a funding shortage.

The proposal was followed by a packed public meeting during which supporters of the church opposed the idea.

The Archdeacon of Exeter, The Venerable Christopher Fitcher, chaired the public meeting and came under immediate pressure from people who claimed the decision to close the church was a foregone conclusion.

Following last week's meeting the archdeacon said: "It was a really positive meeting and there are encouraging signs of possibilities for a future for St Michael's."

OTTERY

The Eagle returns...

A 12-YEAR-OLD golden eagle went AWOL but managed to navigate its way from Gloucester to its home in Ottery after escaping from a show.

Escot resident falconer Jonathon Marshall had taken Samson to a falconry show at a wedding at Berkeley Castle, in Gloucester, on Saturday July 14th.

But the usually reliable bird disappeared without a trace during the show. A call for help went out and the search was on.

Back at base in Ottery, Jonathon was more or less resigned to the fact that Samson was lost forever.

Jonathon took part in a flying demonstration at Escot a week after Samson disappeared, when the unbelievable happened.

Suddenly Samson appeared, descending on Escot as if nothing untoward had happened.

Care Service grant for TIC

AXMINSTER Tourist Information Centre (TIC) has been given a grant that will go some way to cover the shortfall created by the cancelled beer festival.

Axminster Care Service came forward and offered £1,000 to help make up for the shortfall.

Axminster Chamber of Commerce runs the TIC, and the beer festival is the main fundraiser.

The amount needed to run the TIC each year is in the region of £10,000-£11,000 according to chamber chairman Shane Morgan.

Some of that money - about £4,500 - is generated by the TIC itself from sources such as box office and coach ticket sales commission.

The rest of the financing comes from the beer festival and other fundraising activities.

Mr Morgan said: "Normally we would have £5,000-£6,000 in the bank this time of year from the beer festival."

But this year's festival was cancelled because of rain, creating a major headache for chamber members.

Mr Morgan said: "We have had to put requests for funding out. We are asking for grants."

In a letter to various grant-giving bodies, TIC manager Sarah Crook wrote: "Last year the beer festival contributed £6,500 towards the running costs of the TIC."

"It is our main fundraiser and with the events held throughout the year, it enables us to promote Axminster as a visitor destination and provide relevant services to visitors and residents alike.

"The TIC does not receive funding from East Devon District Council and is reliant on donations and fundraising.

"Obviously, the loss of money from the beer festival is devastating.

"As you are aware, this is also a time of change for the TIC.

"We are starting a new phase with the heritage centre and expect to move premises for the 2013 season.

"It should be an exciting time for us, but now we are most concerned about our finances."

Mr Morgan said that £3,000 would see the TIC through to the end of the financial year.

When receiving the cheque from Axminster Care Service secretary Caroline Lavender, he said: "We are very grateful, it is a great start."

Axminster Care Service treasurer Norman Copland explained the decision by saying: "We feel that the TIC does a very valuable job for the community, and we support the community in whatever way we feel is appropriate."

Any individuals or organisations wishing to make a donation to the TIC can call Sarah on 01297 343 86 or call in and see her at the TIC.

EDDC get tough on play area funding

After having looked into the matter, he said: "The company is actively working with EDDC to fulfil our compliance with Section 106 obligations, we are not aware of any concerns at present."

"Where reasonable and appropriate we have been able to respond to any concerns raised."

"The site has a long history and the changes to original plans to the play area has been accepted by EDDC and a management company has been established in line with our obligation."

The planning application for the third phase went through the process last year.

An EDDC report written at the time said: "A Section 106 legal agreement will be required."

"The legal agreement will need to contain appropriate clauses for the provision and transfer of the land together with the payment of required contributions currently calculated as £132,277.68 capital plus £24,743.27 maintenance (calculations based on all three phases on the basis that none of the play areas have been provided yet)."

During the planning process Axminster Town Council commented: "The developer's consistent failure - in phases one and two - to deliver the promised play areas has been deeply unsatisfactory for the many young families who have moved into this development attracted by the promised provision of play areas for their children."

"At the present rate of progress, their children will probably be at university by the time this provision is honoured."

■ HANDOVER: Members of Axminster Young Farmers' Club have presented a cheque for more than £300 to Axminster St John Ambulance.

The majority of the money was raised from a charity raffle held at the club's recent summer ball.

Club chairman Karen Bailey presented a cheque for £332 to St John Divisional Officer Bryan Ball and said: "Our Club recognises the good work that St John Ambulance does and our members were very keen to support our local division in particular."

■ SIXTH formers at Axe Valley Community College in Axminster have raised more than £800 for worthy causes.

A total of £214.28 was raised for Children's Hospice South West during a balloon launch.

Sixth formers also gave cheques to Great Ormond Street Hospital for £214.28 and Make a Wish Foundation for £433.28 as a culmination of various fundraising activities.

Pauline Leach from Children's Hospice South West is pictured receiving a cheque from Zoe Brauntton-Turner, accompanied by fellow sixth formers Rachael Pearce and Sam Hancock.

■ TASTY: Cakes were among items on sale during The Minster Church Summer Fayre in Axminster.

The event was held on Saturday, July 21st on the green in glorious sunshine.

The Reverend John Streeting, pictured at the cake stall with volunteers and customers, said a total of £1,500 was raised and will be used for the general upkeep of the church.

He added: "I thought it was a lovely occasion. It was an opportunity for people to come and support the church and an opportunity to show that the church is part of the community."

■ ANNABEL Jackson and Jonny House have been announced as the new head girl and head boy respectively at Axe Valley Community College in Axminster.

They were introduced to the media on Friday, July 6th and Jonny said about his appointment: "I hope to bring everyone together with my positive outlook on life."

Annabel hopes to play a part in increasing awareness of the college in the wider community and to make the netball team a winning one.

Deputy head girls are Rosie Hawkins, Steph Colvin and Beth Dean.

Alex Phillips, Alex Wilde and Zach Bricknell are the new deputy head boys.

Students held spellbound by tales of Nazi Germany

A WOMAN who fled Nazi Germany as a little girl kept college students spellbound when she recounted her incredible story.

Ruth Barnett gave a captivating account that included the Gestapo knocking on her family's door in Berlin, looking for her father.

Born in 1935, Ruth came to England four years later through a rescue programme called Kindertransport (which loosely translated means child transport in English).

Her visit to Axe Valley Community College in Axminster had been organised through the Holocaust Educational Trust.

Ruth's father was Jewish and fled to Shanghai while her mother, who was not Jewish, remained in Germany in hiding until 1945.

Her dad was a lawyer who lost his job simply because he was Jewish.

Ruth told her story of how she was taken to safety in England with her seven-year-old brother.

She also told of how she forgot the German language and became more and more English.

She has settled in England but told of a very difficult time when she was torn between her new country and her parents, who took out a court order for her repatriation after the war.

In the end, a compromise was reached that saw her remain in England and go back to Germany during school holidays to rebuild the relationship with her parents.

But the difficulty of getting a passport hurt her deeply.

By Anders Larsson

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

She was unable to get a German passport, and couldn't be issued with a UK passport either.

As a result, she travelled for years on what was known as a Person of No Nationality Document.

She was deeply hurt by this and, during her talk, she referred to the document as "a nasty little paper."

Early on, she told the college students: "You are the future of the human race."

Curing violence with violence

"My generation hasn't done very well and the human race is going in a direction that could lead to extinction."

"At the moment, around the world, we are trying to cure violence with violence."

"Violence can't kill violence, it will only make it worse."

She encouraged students not to take anything, including herself, at face value, saying: "Form your own informed opinion. Too many people swallow what one person says without checking."

As would have been expected, her life story contained many dark moments.

But Ruth also told the students that she met a Jewish man at Reading University whom she subsequently married, which led to children and grandchildren.

Ruth said: "So my story has a happy ending."

■ RUTH BARNETT: A life which contained many dark moments but has a happy ending

New Minster seat to commemorate Jubilee

VISITORS to Minster Green in Axminster have been given another option when it comes to sitting down for a well-earned rest.

Members of Axminster Carnival Committee agreed that takings from this year's forthcoming carnival collection will help pay for a bench commemorating the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

The bench has already been provided and was formally presented to the town on Thursday.

■ IN THE FRAME: Some of the members working on prints during a recent meeting

Milestone for photo club

AXMINSTER Photography Group will celebrate its 25th anniversary with a hat-trick of exhibitions.

Members use both colour and monochrome and come from a wide catchment area including East Devon, West Dorset and South Somerset.

Member Moya Paul explained: "The group grew out of a traditional camera club with the intention of stretching themselves in new directions.

"The ethos of the group is supportive as opposed to competitive and members aim to help each other raise the standard of their work – both from a technical and artistic viewpoint."

The 25th anniversary is being celebrated with three exhibitions.

The first of these will be held in the Malthouse Gallery of the Lyme Regis Town Mill on August 10th, 11th and 12th.

Moya said: "The exhibitions will include images from the dark room era through the early days of colour printing to the advent of the digital age.

"There will be a display of work produced by current members and a selection of images which have gained recognition and awards from Western Counties Photographic Federation. "Some of these images have also won national awards and been displayed in international salons."

The exhibition will be open from 10-5pm on all three days and admission will be free.

The images will also be on display at Pecorama in Seaton from September 17th-22nd.

Admission to the photo exhibition is free, as is admission to the gardens- but there is a charge for the railway exhibition at Pecorama.

There will also be a third exhibition in The Arts Café in Axminster from November 10th-24th.

More information about the group is available online at <http://www.axphotography.org.uk>

Another good year for Togs

■ COMMITTED: Members of the committee line up for a photo before the annual general meeting

THE chairman of Axminster Care Service said the organisation's shop continues to do well despite increased competition.

Speaking at the annual general meeting, Dr James Vann said: "For over 20 years, Axminster Care Service has been the only local charity with its own shop, Charity Togs, helping to fund its activities.

"We must be doing something right as there are now five charity shops in Axminster, at least that I know of.

"Despite this competition we continue to do well at Togs under the leadership of Betty Copland and her able helpers.

"Transport continues to be the main user of our funds but we still manage to support many other local activities large and small."

Dr Vann also commented: "I think our motto should be 'charity begins at home' as we direct our help to the local people of Axminster and its surrounding parishes.

"At a time of general difficulties and hardship in many places it is good that we have an established group of people ready and committed to helping the local community.

"As well as raising money for good local causes we like to think that we facilitate people to help themselves and their neighbours to the common good.

"Not everything needs money, but there is no doubt that it helps.

"As always, thanks again to my supporting committee who literally do all the work."

Teenagers in shock after sea rescue

TWO teenagers from Honiton were pulled out of the sea off Seaton, suffering from hypothermic shock, after their dinghy sunk.

The alarm was raised just after 3pm on Friday, July 27th and the Lyme Regis lifeboat responded.

The Coastguard was also alerted and Beer Coastguard station officer Terry Hoare said: "A search by the Lyme Regis lifeboat located two boys in the sea one mile off shore.

"They had been in the water for 30 minutes and both were suffering from hypothermic shock and were brought ashore to a waiting Coastguard team for transfer to hospital."

Mr Hoare added: "These lads were lucky. Their core body temperature had dropped quite significantly, causing hypothermic shock."

MEMBERS of the Lyme Regis Coastguards Rescue Team were deployed after a male walker called 999, reporting that he had suffered a leg injury and was stranded on the coastal footpath between Seaton and Lyme.

The call came in at 6.05pm on Monday of last week and a spokesperson for the Coastguards said: "The man was subsequently extracted from an isolated location in difficult terrain, to a place where he could be met and treated by paramedics."

Double theme at the 70th

■ GAME ON: Izzy Kershaw, Georgia Hodder, Chloe Burrige and Jayz Northcott ran traditional fair attractions

■ STIRRING START: Charlie, the show's resident Scottish piper leads the fancy dress entries into the main arena

THE 70th annual Axmouth Village Show attracted hundreds to Coombe Field for a day of traditional fun and celebration in glorious sunshine.

The show was opened by guests of honour, Herbie and Norma Sweetland, long serving members of the Axmouth community and of the show. Herbie, a keen exhibitor and someone whose father was an even keener exhibitor, especially with the family rhubarb, was pleased to open the show.

At the opening, Show President Lady Loveridge also took to the stage praising the local community and the ongoing efforts made year on year.

She said: "I am very proud to be President of Axmouth Show - a show which has grown in stature and popularity and has turned out to be a most successful annual event raising money for local charities and causes."

"It is here we must say thanks to the local community of Axmouth, who always support us, as well as Carl Northcott, our chairman and the show committee."

"You only have to look back to the Jubilee when we planted six oak trees on this very field, one for each decade of the Queen's reign to see the true community spirit here."

By Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemedi.co.uk

The event played host to a huge variety of stalls from homemade cakes and local refreshments to traditional fair games, local crafts, plants and grand draws. Also on offer was entertainment throughout the day and evening including Bernie Bennett, who impressed the on-looking crowds with his comedy tight rope act as well as a special performance from local young dancers 'Confidence Troop' and live music from Devon Bird, the Doo- Dah's and The Barries.

There was an increase in vintage tractors and farming vehicles on display alongside thatching demonstrations and Axe One Design Yachts which brought the local countryside aspects alive and kept many entertained.

The main flower show took on a celebratory theme, not only commemorating the show's 70th birthday but also the London Olympics with gold, silver and bronze prizes for each class.

Summer fun event raises £240

A CHRISTIAN Aid summer fun coffee morning was deemed a great success with more than £240 being raised.

Alongside the many activities at Seaton Methodist Church, was a special charity car wash which boosted funds.

There was also a great selection of whacky hats made for a hat competition with a jubilee or Olympic theme. Judges Peter and Christine Bond chose winners Gerry Austin and 89-year-old Connie Wellington as the winners.

The Reverend Linda Chester won the prize for guessing the amount raised that morning and Pam Lucas for choosing the correct name of a toy monkey.

Organiser, Janet Lang thanked all those who played a part in any way and added that it was felt that all had a good time at the event.

The show showed off a range of fresh produce from super-sized vegetables to flowers and cookery entries, and judges were pleased overall with the quality on show.

Despite this, floral exhibits and children's classes were down, and despite a good turn out for vegetables, the poor growing season meant that size and quality was lower in comparison to previous years.

However the standard of cakes, jams and photography was on the up, with an increase in entries and excellent skills shown throughout.

Organisers of the show would like to thank all those who attended, sponsored and supported the flower show in any way and are looking forward to revealing the results. Special thanks in particular went to Crealy Adventure Park who donated five free family tickets as prizes on the day.

Full results from the flower show appear in next week's Pulman's View

Britain In Bloom judges in town

SEATON has been judged for the South West in Bloom 2012 competitions.

Judges appeared on a July afternoon to cast a critical eye over Seaton's entry as a whole, which is entered in the Small Town category.

The judges were shown around by a Seaton in Bloom delegation after having been met on arrival by town crier David Craner and a number of town councillors.

The town crier fired off a shout written for the occasion before judging began.

Results will be announced at the South West in Bloom awards ceremony on September 29th.

■ OUTGOING President Marcia Cook hands over the presidential chains to Peter Wells

New President at Axminster Lions

At the first business meeting of Axminster and District Lions Club this month, Marcia Cook handed over the presidency to Peter Wells.

The past year has been extremely successful for Marcia and the Lions, with nearly £6,000 raised for local charities.

Over the next 12 months the club will be in safe hands, as Peter previously held the office of President when he was in Ottery St Mary Lions Club and is currently a Lions County Advisor for Devon working on membership and leadership.

The club is keen to know how Axminster Lions can be of most benefit to the local community. Please send thoughts and suggestions to Peter Wells c/o Ridgeway Country Hotel, Smallridge, Axminster, Devon EX13 7JJ or phone 01404 822089.

Anyone interested in joining this valuable and world-wide service organisation should also contact Peter. The Lions' motto is "WE SERVE".

■ ALTHOUGH it is hoped that the summer deluge is over, Axminster and District Lions Club is aware that further heavy rainfall will no doubt cause real problems for some householders.

The club would like residents of the area to know that they have available for loan four dehumidifiers, which may be of help in any drying out process. Anyone wishing to freely borrow one should contact the President of Axminster and District Lions Club, Peter Wells, on 01404 822089.

theWI INSPIRING WOMEN

East Devon Women's Institutes ROUND UP

HONITON

THERE was a real treat in store for the Honiton Afternoon WI at their July meeting.

A cookery demonstration was given by Mary Bolshaw who started by showing members how to make a spicy pepper and tomato soup with cucumber yogurt.

This was followed by a seafood pasta dish and also a grilled peach, chicken and feta salad. With summer picnics in mind, members were shown how to prepare baguettes in a new format which can be stored overnight.

At the end of the demonstration, Mrs Bolshaw invited everyone to a taster session. Members said it really was "a most entertaining afternoon".

Also in July, members were invited to Manna House for their annual cream tea event. They said this is always a very pleasant occasion where everyone enjoys delicious scones topped with cream and strawberries made by Anne Godfrey.

It had been hoped that members would be able to spend time in the garden playing croquet but unfortunately the rain meant this could not take place.

There is not a meeting in August but a number of members are going by coach to Malmesbury where they will visit the Abbey House Garden which is well known as the home of the Naked Gardeners of television fame.

The next meeting will be on September 10th at 2pm, in the Methodist Chapel, when the speaker will be Neil Hurlock from the TRIP Community Transport Association. Visitors will be very welcome to attend.

SEATON

SEATON WI's last meeting before the August break was very well attended.

The talk was by Donald Cotton from the RSPB. He mentioned the many reserves in Devon and the varied wildlife that can be seen at different times of the year.

He went through the top 15 birds that have been spotted countrywide by the thousands of people who completed their Big Garden birdwatch survey. Mr Cotton also showed coloured slides and gave details and facts about each one.

The WI's walking group this month went from Countess Weir, Exeter, along the river bank to the Quay, with refreshments along the way. All who went enjoyed it immensely.

The group's next meeting will be on Tuesday, September 18th at Seaton Methodist Church Hall. All welcome to join in this friendly group.

RBL ladies learn to carry the Standard

AT the July meeting of Axminster Royal British Legion Women's Section, branch member Allen Brown came along to demonstrate how to carry and dip an RBL Standard.

Bearing in mind that the Standard is around eight feet tall and dipping with one hand takes practice and skill, particularly in a high wind, all the members, without exception - a couple of them having attempted to lift and carry - realised the training that is required to make the procedure so effortless.

The branch members would like to express their gratitude to Allen for his talk and for all his help over the last few years with the Women's Section Standard Bearer.

During the last month some members attended the Military Wives Concert, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all and included an auction by David Fitzgerald from BBC Radio Devon. During the interval members of the Military Wives Choir circulated to talk to the audience.

Axminster and Kilmington RBL attended the Armed Forces Day in Plymouth, together with 30,000 other people.

The branch was delighted to see so many RBL members and Standard Bearers from around the county and to support and thank the Armed Forces on parade that day for their "selfless devotion to duty on behalf of the country". The day culminated with a demonstration by the Red Arrows.

The chairman mentioned the Garden Party on the July 25th, which was held at her house in Willhayes Park, to raise money for the Royal British Legion. It was suggested that proceeds from one of the raffles be donated to the Axminster Flood Appeal.

The next meeting is at 7.30pm on Friday, September 14th when a volunteer from the charity "Send a Cow" will be coming along to talk to us about the charity's work in Africa.

NEW CHAPTER | Julian (left) is welcomed by Wessex Guild chairman Nick Kenworthy

Julian joins SPAR Guild

MUSBURY Garage owner Julian Rinaldi has been appointed to the Wessex Guild of SPAR.

Julian joined SPAR three years ago when he converted his garage shop into a 1,000 square feet SPAR forecourt store.

The Wessex Guild is made up of retailers and senior management from SPAR's regional distribution company, Appleby Westward, which supplies nearly 300 convenience stores throughout the South and West.

SPAR is served by six regional distribution centres throughout the UK, each of which has a Guild which meets to discuss and review company policy decisions.

Julian joins 11 other retailers on the Wessex Guild. Each committee member represents a designated area and Julian will represent South Somerset and East Devon.

"I see the Guild as an important link between the retailer and Appleby Westward," he said.

Julian admits he had to do some homework before deciding to accept the offer of joining the Guild.

He explained: "I knew the Guild existed, but I had never been to a meeting.

"I had to be sure I understood the implications and the requirements. If I'm in something, I'm in 100 per cent."

He took over Musbury Garage when his parents Frank and Barbara retired in 2008. They had originally acquired the site in April 1981.

It originally opened as a garage in the 1930s under the ownership of a Mr Snell who later sold the business on to Jim Hendin before he in turn sold it to Frank and Barbara.

Hawkchurch hotel joins CHA

THE Hawkchurch based Fairwater Head Hotel has joined the Considerate Hoteliers Association (CHA).

The association is a group of hoteliers who are working to encourage economically, socially and environmentally sustainable policies and practices among hoteliers.

The Fairwater's Adam Southwell said: "We are constantly looking at ways to make the hotel more environmentally friendly.

"There is no doubt that people are becoming more conscious of the world we live in.

"By joining this group we are able to get to hear about the latest ideas and innovations without ever compromising our guest's comfort and experience".

The Fairwater Head Hotel was bought by Adam and Carrie Southwell in 2007 and since then they have transformed the business into one of the leading hotels and restaurants in the southwest of England.

Musbury Moles take to the hills

■ THE rain held off just long enough for Musbury infants and pre-school children to undertake their sponsored walk up to Musbury Castle.

Held last Friday, the group enjoyed a walk where they undertook a nature trail to explore the surrounding countryside and raised £162 for the pre-school.

The children, aged between two and seven years, walked in small groups and were asked to collect items on their way that matched an adjective - this may have been something smooth or spiky or something that was a particular colour.

When the children reached the top of Musbury Castle they enjoyed a snack and cool drink before heading back down the hill to discuss what they liked about the nature pieces they had collected.

The money raised by will be used for advertising the pre-school in the future.

"He was impressed by the pupils' knowledge about the torch relay and the Olympics in general.

"We were all very grateful to Ryan for coming in to talk to us and enjoyed it immensely."

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

FATHER Michael Koppell writes: What kind of welcome do we expect when we return to our hometown? The evangelist St Mark tells us about the kind of reception Jesus got when he went home.

He says that people 'took offence at him'. That may come as a surprise. And yet if you look at the records, you will see where the problem lay. The point which struck our Lord's contemporaries most forcefully was that he spoke and acted with authority. That is the key to people's hostility to Jesus.

For implicit in all his words and actions was a challenge. A challenge to respond to him. A challenge which nobody could ignore. People could either accept Jesus as Lord or they would reject him. There was no middle way, no escape from the responsibility for a personal decision.

No wonder our Lord made a lot of people in his home town of Nazareth feel very uncomfortable. Accepting his claim would mean a revolution in their outlook and way of life. Like others in later times they did not feel they could cope with that. The question is, can we?

● The annual meeting of the Friends of Cyprus & the Gulf was held at Allhallows by the Tower last week. A gift of vestments for their churches from the Parish of Compyne-Rousdon in East Devon was announced.

Their Diocese church calendar for 2013 is now on sale at the Exeter Cathedral Shop with many fine photos. Places on a visit to the Church in Georgia in the Caucasus in April 2013 are available - email bishop@spidernet.com.cy Locally, summer events continue including music on Tuesdays at St Paul's, Honiton (from 1pm) and lunchtime music at Axminster Church on Thursdays.

JUNE Millman lives with her husband Clive in Seaton. A local girl born and bred, June was born in the front bedroom of her parents bungalow in Colyford some 60 years ago, and the same bungalow is still owned by her family.

After moving to Seaton in 1973 and marrying Clive who is local to Axmouth, June had two sons and now has a 20-month-old grandson. She recently attended the marriage of her youngest son at the beginning of July, where the day was one to remember, after floods and bad weather meant nobody was sure they could make it to the ceremony!

June plays a huge part in the local community, as the leader of Seaton Majorettes, Chairman of Seaton Carnival Committee, previous member of FROSH and a member of the Lions Ladies.

● SEATON Carnival is once again fast approaching, what can we look forward to this year?

SEATON Carnival always amazes me; there is such a buzz during the week's events. The committee always worry if the events will be supported, but the public always come along.

● DO YOU have any new events on the cards for this year?

ENTRIES for this year's procession night on September 1st are slowly coming in and I hope it will be a bumper year for entrants. I would like to beat the 2004 entries, which were 55.

This year as a new entry we have the Town Criers

Competition, which is being run by the Chamber of Commerce. At the moment there are 13 entrants and I am hoping they will all lead the Carnival Queen down from the Town Hall to the head of the parade, this should be an amazing sight.

● WHAT inspired you to begin working with the community during carnival week?

AS I suspect happens with most volunteers my offer to help with the procession one year has turned into many.

I then joined the committee and have been proud to be chairman for the last two years.

The highlight for me every year is the parade on the Saturday night. I love the noise, the band and the hundreds of people who come along to enjoy the events I have helped to arrange.

● WHAT inspired you to become involved with the majorettes and are you looking forward to revealing their new uniforms?

I STARTED Seaton Majorettes in 2006 having begun at Kilminster Primary School after a request by the Head Teacher. Our outfits then were red and silver hence the 'Fire and Ice' but we have decided to drop this and just be known as Seaton Majorettes.

Every two years we like to change the outfits. Girls grow so fast it would cost just as much to replace the same ones and they also get damaged during displays.

However it is very worrying to the committee when we realise how much uniforms cost. This year's costumes have cost £4,955 and are amazing. I just hope they come in time for the girls to help lead the queen down on procession night. Keep your fingers crossed for us.

Once again the people of Seaton have helped to achieve this goal by donations to the troupe and we are very grateful for their support. We were also given a grant by the town council, which helped us.

● Do you think that community events keep the town alive?

I STILL think Seaton is a wonderful town. I started the ball rolling when we formed a committee to save the town hall in 2008 for which I was made Citizen of the Town in 2009, and was delighted when Seaton's Voice took it on.

The events they put on keep the town alive - what a wonderful job they are doing. Good luck to them all.

● What do you think could be done to improve Seaton?

IT IS sad to see so many shops closing down due to the recession, but we can look forward to all the new ones, which will open when we come out the other side.

Help rid us of Himalayan balsam this summer

THAT wretched invasive weed, Himalayan balsam, is, hopefully, about to get its comeuppance! This introduced plant, with its pink, not unattractive flowers and explosive seeds, has spread throughout much of the Axe catchment area, dominating river banks to the exclusion and detriment of native plants.

Although it prefers damp areas, I have found hedgerows close to my home and some distance from water, invaded by the wretched plant. However, last year I ripped up every single balsam plant I could see and noticed that this summer barely any have returned.

However, a new group called the Axe Invasives, funded by Natural England, has been formed to remove all the Himalayan balsam in our region. So far, meetings with landowners have taken place and areas where the plants have taken hold have been mapped. Now volunteers are needed to help with the actual removal.

The catchment area of the Axe comprises the Coly, Umber, Corry Brook, Yarty Axe, Kit, Blackwater and numerous tributaries and brooks.

However, the plant is also being discovered in ditches, by roads and in many hitherto unlikely locations. I have seen it in deep woodland and, as mentioned above, in hedgerows.

Fortunately, it is easily pulled up and then the plants should be burnt. This work needs to be undertaken before the seeds are ripe and ready to explode several feet to establish fresh growth next year.

The co-ordinator for the project is Mervyn Newman (07554 439207) and he has organised a work and volunteer co-ordinator for each tributary of the Axe. There will be volunteer opportunities throughout August so contact Mervyn for further details.

By tackling this wretched plant in a co-ordinated fashion over this and the next four years it is hoped to clear it from the region.

This summer the Devon Wildlife Trust are asking holidaymakers to help protect beach wildlife by following a simple six-part Seashore Code... handle creatures with care, especially soft-bodied animals such as anemones; don't make animals homeless; don't leave litter; put rockpool creatures back where found; watch where you walk to avoid crushing or dislodging shells such as limpets and, finally, be aware of incoming tides, especially when absorbed in rockpooling.

Also, and this is my own addition, be alert to potential rock falls in the light of the recent tragedy at the cliffs near Burton Bradstock.

The recent rains and now the heat may have caused rocks to loosen, leaving them in a volatile state. Just because you have not seen a warning notice is no reason not to be alert to potential danger.

The Seashore Code marks the beginning of National Marine Weeks (July 28th to August 12th) and Devon Wildlife Trust will be laying on a range of seaside events at Wembury Marine Centre, near Plymouth. Visit www.devonwildlifetrust.org for more information.

The same two weeks are being celebrated by neighbouring Dorset Wildlife Trust with eco-friendly crabbing, rockpool rambles and kayak safaris.

Events will be held in the Purbeck Marine Wildlife Reserve, Kimmeridge Bay and will include kayak safaris for ages 12 and above, with a maximum of six persons per session, using special kayaks with clear bottoms to see seabed life.

To book a safari call 01929 481044. Details of times and costs of all events can be seen online at www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk/events

Finally, the recent welcome sunshine and warm weather has come as a welcome relief to farmers desperate to get in a hay and silage crop, and also see their grain begin to ripen and swell.

We have at last been able to cut our small field for small bale silage and are praying that showers hold off. Our prayers are, I imagine, being echoed round the region!

Logical Energy Centre

Solar Energy in a Discreet Package

DESPITE the promise of reduced electricity bills and a generous quarterly payment from the Government backed FITs, solar panels fall short for some on the most basic of issues – looks.

If this describes you, or your partners feelings towards solar energy, you may be interested in a new breed of solar panel from Axminster based Logical Energy in the form of CIS Thin Film.

Tried and tested throughout the world, as well as in climates close to our own, this elegant 'all-black' panel blends effortlessly with most roofing materials, and can be integrated into the roof structure itself – as shown here.

If looks matter when it comes to your home, CIS thin film certainly doesn't mean compromising pleasing aesthetics over substance. Far from it, the panel reaches its peak far quicker than its traditional counterpart and promises up to a 14% higher electricity generation. The result is a superior return on investment and faster payback.

You may be one of those homeowners, farmers or businesses where the positioning of your roof, shading issues or even cost rendered your good intentions prohibitive or even out of the question. If so, you may want to look again. CIS thin film is more robust, offering greater flexibility in terms of roof orientation and shading. In terms of cost, you will be pleasantly surprised to find a quote today is far lower due to panel prices responding to market fluctuation.

Let's face it: We all like to do our bit for the environment — but do we really want to sacrifice appearance and curb appeal of our properties?

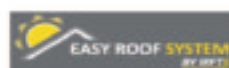

There is a solution. In partnership with leading providers of innovative green technologies, Axminster based Logical Energy introduces a roof-integrated PV system that sets new standards. By combining Solar Frontier's high performance CIS Thin Film solar PV panels with the new Easy Roof mounting system for seamless roof integration, we are giving you an elegant and highly efficient system that not only provides outstanding value, but also helps protecting the environment by using one of the most advanced and resource-saving manufacturing processes in the solar industry.

Discover the new Solar PV generation:

- ☑ Reduced material and labour cost by replacing parts of the conventional roof cover: save around 30sqm for a typical 4kWp system
- ☑ Reliable, safe and fast installation, and easy design integration during planning phase
- ☑ Leading energy generation performance from a premium quality panel at very competitive cost
- ☑ Outstanding return on investment

Contact us to discover more about the ultimate solar PV in-roof solution

The winning team for efficient PV roof integration for all pitched & tiled roof projects:

The EasyRoof PV in-roof system is the perfect choice for an integrated, visually stunning and lasting solar PV solution. Installed straight onto the battens — during the initial roof construction or during re-roofing — it is efficient and provides considerable material and labour savings.

Quick and Easy

The installation can take place during the normal roofing process. Using a frame system made from strong and lasting uPVC material, it provides the lowest possible profile that does not stand out further from the roof surface than a Velux window.

The expertly developed and extensively tested* EasyRoof system ensures excellent roof sealing and optimal ventilation for the PV panels.

* Fully tested and certified as well as installed in more than 1,000 domestic roof installations.

The Result: Solar PV as never seen before!

Solar Frontier Premium Quality CIS Thin Film PV panels are setting new standards of performance. They combine their unique and beautiful, uniformly black aesthetics with a wide range of highly valuable benefits over conventional crystalline panels.

Excellent Low-light Performance

CIS modules do not just perform strongly during the brightest hours of the day — they also work in the early morning hours and in the late evening hours, as well as under diffused light, for example during cloudy days.

High shadow tolerance

CIS modules achieve high efficiency rates even in partial shading, under shadows from trees or buildings in the surrounding or even by leaves falling on the module surface.

High temperature stability

Get the highest possible outputs even during the hottest periods of the year! As temperatures increase, CIS modules have a smaller loss in efficiency than conventional PV technologies.

Light Soaking Effect

This effect is comparable with the running in of an engine, increasing its top performance over and beyond the rated performance.

Smart, simple and eco-friendly decorating ideas

BEING environmentally-friendly in my home is too expensive. Going green is just a fad. Eco-friendly style is just plain ugly.

Chances are you've thought about decorating green, but one of these stereotypes stopped you. It turns out that believing these myths can be harmful to your health. "There's so much in our homes that's not good for us," says green architect/designer Michelle Kaufmann, founder and chairman of Michelle Kaufmann Designs. New home smells are actually toxic; mold inside walls can cause migraines and other health issues; and carpet can off-gas formaldehyde which is known to cause respiratory irritation and even cancer.

"But the good news is that we're becoming aware of these things," says Kaufmann, "As we become aware — and as there are options out there — it's just a matter of making choices." Choose to decorate with real sustainability in mind — using less energy, less water and less non-renewable resources while still beautifying your home. Here's why green design is affordable, beautiful and here to stay.

NOT ALL GREEN DESIGN IS PRICEY!

"I'm so tired of the green stuff that is so expensive," says Kaufmann. "It sends the message, 'green is for the wealthy'. That's so not right. Green is for everyone!" Consider places like Goodwill and the Salvation Army. For a modern take on old accessories, Kaufmann picks up shapely items at these stores and spray paints them white.

· Choose home decor that's recycled, reused, will last a long time and require very little maintenance. Zem Joaquin, green blogger at Ecofabulous.com, designed her 1950s home in an eco-friendly fashion with the cradle-to-cradle concept: what comes out of the earth, has to go back to the earth.

· Urbanites will have more success locating eco-friendly or green stores such as Viva Terra or Branch Home, but because most eco-friendly stores are still local, call your local U.S. Green Building Council office or local building department to find them.

You can decorate green and still match your style.

No matter your style, there are ways to get greener interiors without turning your home into a forest. "A really good eco-design is a design that you never have to explain," Joaquin says. If you like Shabby Chic and you need a new dining room table, "don't just think that the only choices are going to the store and buying one," Kaufmann says. Buy a table base kit and visit local wood salvage yards for reclaimed lumber to use as a top.

· For any style, Kaufmann has a simple way to make your home more energy efficient. Create a water wall with colorful Mason jars on a window that gets a lot of sunlight (preferably west-facing). The water absorbs the heat during the day, keeping the house cooler, and releases it at night. Clear glass jars filled with food-coloring dyed water is another way to make the water wall playfully decorative.

· Carpet FLOR tiles used in a home theater makeover on Carter Can

BY GOING GREEN, YOU'LL KNOW WHAT YOUR HOME IS MADE OF.

Nutrition labels let us know exactly what's in our food. Wouldn't you like to know exactly what's in the materials we use in our homes? "We don't even think about it," Kaufmann says, "when in fact it impacts us to a great extent as much as food does, because we're breathing in whatever these materials are off-gassing," like formaldehyde from carpet.

· For those with wall-to-wall carpeting, if it's wool and you like it, keep it. Otherwise, Greg Snowden, owner of the Green Fusion Design Center, advises it's best to use modular carpet tiles. Several eco-friendly companies, like FLOR and Shaw Carpet, offer stylish carpet squares that use non-toxic dyes and are made from recycled materials. "Carpet squares are a huge eco-improvement, because they're modular," Snowden says. "When you're done with it, you can ship it back to the manufacturer to recycle." Plus, these squares involve little labor; they are easy to lay down by yourself and don't need support from toxic padding.

In fact "cost leadership" is at the forefront of the business whilst keeping quality and the principles of design paramount (also illustrated is an arbour with an Eastern influence). NC Jacks Landscaping

N.C. Jacks Landscaping is a small, family-run business that has been working in the East Devon and West Dorset area since 1986. The business aims to provide a high quality service designed to meet your individual requirements. This may be a design to completion project or an individual job such as a patio or fencing.

Whether you are looking for a patio area to relax and enjoy your garden from, or just a path way to access another area, paving is the ideal choice. Hard wearing and permanent the style of finishes is extensive.

Dry Stone provides a very strong and flexible wall. Traditionally built with natural stone with no mortar or concrete and simply back filled with soil it works well in a cottage garden where a more traditional look is required. It provides an attractive base for plants to grow through.

We carry out a full range of fencing services from traditional panels, close boarding and post and rail, as well as trellis and gates.

Decking provides a more contemporary hard garden surface. Softer than paving it can be used on its own or as a compliment to hard paving. It is well suited to level uneven awkward sites. Balustrading and hand rails give a practical and attractive finish.

Creative students on writing course

AXE Valley Community College in Axminster sent creative students on a residential writing course for the third time.

Sixteen students took part in a the Arvon Foundation's five-day inspirational writing course at Totleigh Barton Centre, near Okehampton, in early July. The course gives students the chance to live and work alongside two professional published writers, who run daily workshops and tutorial sessions.

College spokesperson Bridget Bennett said: "Due to its huge success in previous years, this is now the third time Axe Valley pupils have attended the Arvon course."

"This year's students were keen and talented writers from years 10, 11 and 13."

"They were accompanied by English teacher Mrs Carroll, and school librarian Mrs Hughes."

"Our course tutors were children's novelist and Bath Spa University teacher Steve Voake, and Orange Fiction Prize winner Naomi Alderman."

"Daily teaching sessions were a fun-packed mix, focusing on the lighter side of writing though word games and scene setting, before looking at the serious business of character profiles and plot development.

"Students were then encouraged to share their work with the group. We heard some quite brilliant stuff."

"Quality writing wasn't the week's only highlight. Students were also responsible for cooking an evening meal for 20 plus people, and for keeping the kitchen area clean and tidy."

"Believe it or not, they did a great job at both. Our male students in particular were very keen to show off their domestic talents."

She also said the college hopes to return to the centre next year.

Budding artist clinches college bursary for her work

■ JAYME Barlow won the The Michael Morgan Bursary at Axe Valley Community College's recent art exhibition. Head of art Charles Sinclair said: "This year's art show has been a great success with an even higher standard of work than usual. There were superb examples in the exhibition of art, photography, textiles and resistant materials. More than 20 certificates were given out on the opening night but the main award, The Michael Morgan Bursary of £250, was presented to Jayme Barlow, who had work in all four categories and achieved fantastic results in each." Jayme is pictured with her art teacher, Gemma Fletcher, at the exhibition

Jessica finishes the first phase of naval training

A 20-YEAR-OLD student naval nurse from Axminster has completed the first phase of her training at HMS Raleigh in Cornwall.

Jessica Searle arrived at the gates of the Royal Navy training establishment in May.

During a 10-week intensive course she and her fellow recruits were been taught the basic skills they will rely upon throughout their service careers.

Their success was confirmed with a passing-out-parade attended by families and friends.

The former pupil of The Woodroffe School, Lyme Regis, previously worked as a customer services representative in a bank.

She said: "I joined the Royal Navy for the quality of training as well as the opportunities and experiences available."

"Even though the training has been tough I have really enjoyed it. I have met some fantastic people who have formed a strong team."

"I am very proud that I have successfully completed my initial naval training at HMS Raleigh."

With the first phase of her training complete Jessica is heading for the Defence School of Health Care Studies in Birmingham, where she will spend the next three years studying for a BSc in nursing.

Once fully qualified she will work both on shore and at sea providing medical support to Royal Navy and Royal Marine personnel as a member of the Queen Alexandra's Royal Naval Nursing Service.

Royal Navy spokesperson described the course by saying: "The Royal Navy's initial naval training course is underpinned by nine core maritime skills that are the foundations of naval life and underpin operational effectiveness."

"Recruits are taught the basics of Naval discipline and customs. They learn about navigation and are given the chance to take the helm of their own medium sized inflatable boat during a waterborne orienteering exercise.

"With Royal Navy personnel playing a vital role in Afghanistan and other land-based operations, recruits undergo training in basic combat skills which includes survival in the field. "Fitness is a key component of the training and is delivered using a disciplined method of military fitness which focuses on developing co-ordination and individual physical strength and endurance."

"As the course progresses the recruits take part in three extended exercises to test their skills and

■ I AM wondering if there is anyone amongst your readers who may be able to help me in my quest to find a large framed photo, which I have failed to find in eight months of searching.

My reason for this request is, I am writing a book on the history of Colyton YMCA Youth Centre, which is now the Reece Strawbridge Youth Centre, situated in the Colyton Playing Fields.

The photo which I am seeking, is of Mr John Hendley, who was the Colyton Lloyds Bank Manager, and was responsible for starting the Youth Centre in 1941.

Two photos hung on the wall of the youth centre which was then in what was known as the The George's Meeting House and reputed to have been the second oldest building of that nature in the country.

The two photos were of Mr Hendley and Mr Reece Strawbridge, a matching pair.

When the building was being sold in order to build the new premises, I understand, that two men carried them out and placed them in a store at the Tannery.

The one of Reece Strawbridge was being used in a window display when money was being raised for the new building. So far, numerous searches for the one of Mr Hendley have drawn a blank. I have written to one of the gentlemen who carried the photos out, with a stamped addressed envelope, but after two months of waiting I've received no reply.

Therefore, I am at a loss to know whether he has any knowledge of the photo's whereabouts.

I have approached Lloyds Bank but they were unable to help. Therefore, it would appear that the only photo in existence is the one which was in the youth centre.

I would be very grateful to any reader who might be able to help me locate it, as he was the man who first started the youth club.

I would like his picture in the book, for without him there would have been no club.

Despite Old Beer Road being shut, there's still access great Cabin cafe

■ HAVING read that part of Old Beer Road has collapsed and that the road was closed, we found we were able access the excellent Cabin café via the lower entrance to the Old Beer Road.

Why oh why was this not included in the report?

The weather, lack of visitors and the demise of the holiday camp have hit Janet (of the Cabin) severely.

Please put this right and restore her customers to this delightful place. Thank you from a frequent visitor to Seaton and the Cabin.

Great work of community is praised

■ HEARING from all quarters about the excellent work of our local emergency services, the council and the voluntary groups, at our Churches Together meeting this week, we wanted to express our gratitude to all of them.

Through your paper may we thank them for the thorough and tireless way they served our community in the recent flooding crisis.

Some questions for Mr Parish at next council meet

■ MR Parish gave a politician's response when attending the Senior Council for Honiton.

He studiously avoided his own role in voting for many controversial measures pensioners are concerned about.

Astonishingly he even presented himself as a Tory 'rebel'.

In fact the web shows him voting loyally for the coalition on 501 votes out of 505 including the unpopular NHS and Social Care Bill, the Welfare Reform Bill, the raising of VAT and the equalisation of the pension age which has had a devastating effect on women.

The four issues when he voted with the minority appear to have nothing to do with pensioners.

The website [theyworkforyou.com] suggests he voted through the personal allowances for 2013 which would have included the freeing of older people tax allowances for years to come which Honiton Senior Voice are very angry about.

We need to know if this is so and whether he raised any concerns.

The good thing to come from this meeting is that when he acknowledged the numbers of older people locally he disassociated himself from his Tory colleagues Nick Boles proposals to means test bus passes, fuel allowances, prescriptions, etc, though fuel allowances have already been cut for some.

We look forward to this being reflected in Mr Parish's actions.

If he returns to speak on social care he must be asked about his record.

PALOMA'S BACK IN PLYMOUTH

FOLLOWING her Autumn 2010 Plymouth gig, Paloma Faith has announced a series of UK tour dates for 2013 and will return to Plymouth Pavilions on Friday, February 15th 2013.

Her new single '30 Minute Love Affair' is to be released on August 12. The song is taken from Paloma's incredible second album 'Fall To Grace' which reached number 2 in the UK albums chart when it was released back in May. The album was just beaten to the number 1 spot by Gary Barlow's Diamond Jubilee record.

'30 Minute Love Affair' is a sparkling, synth-pop love song in which Paloma recounts the true experience of a fleeting meeting with a busker in London's Leicester Square when she was just fourteen: "I asked him if he'd be there the next day and he said he would. When I went back he was gone, and I've never forgotten it."

Marketing Officer at Plymouth Pavilions, Robert Maltby said: "We can't wait to have Paloma back in Plymouth. Her 2010 show received rave reviews and Paloma's eccentric theatrical costumes have to be the best we have ever seen on stage. It was vocally and visually an amazing live show"

Tickets are on sale now and cost £19.50 (Tickets will be subject to a booking fee). To book tickets contact the Box Office on 0845 146 1460 or visit www.plymouthpavilions.com for 'print at home' ticketing

Teen sensation Harry Housego heads to Exeter

IT'S said that youth is wasted on the young... But not in Harry Housego's case.

He was learning guitar from the age of three, in a recording studio at six, playing open-mic nights at ten and released his first single at thirteen... Now, having only just turned sixteen, he is releasing a new EP of astonishing depth and maturity. Shift over Ed Sheeran and Ben Howard, you have competition.

Richly melodic, acutely personal and beautifully produced, the EP fuses the songwriting nous, weathered confidence and emotional insight of a grown-up to the vulnerability and ease of a teenager. Penning his own songs and co-writing with established songwriters, Harry equally masters buoyant pop and nuanced ballads, with two covers that Harry has no trouble putting his own stamp on, and which reveal more about this gifted teen.

Harry plays Caffè Nero in Exeter on August 4th at 12noon (High Street) and 2pm (Queen Street). Other dates in the south west include Barnstaple on August 5th (Caffè Nero 12noon), Yeovil's Caffè Nero on Friday, August 10th (10am) and Weymouth Caffè Nero on August 11th. For full tour details and a taste of Harry's music visit his website at www.harry.uk.com

A GOLDEN WEDDING, A BIRTHDAY AND A DEDICATION FOR TOWN BAND

OVER the past few weeks, Lyme Regis Town Band's summer engagements have shown unusual variety. They recently entertained an appreciative audience of guests at a private golden wedding celebration in Hawkhurst. This was followed by the celebration of a 'significant' birthday of one of its members and then the dedication and naming ceremony of the new Lyme Regis lifeboat.

Last week, a special cake was provided by Val Mahoney for band member Viv Wright, with an icing picture showing Viv in band uniform. When asked the significance of the birthday, Viv would only repeat 'significant', so the truth remains a well-kept secret!

Prior to the dedication and naming ceremony of the new lifeboat 'Spirit of Loch Fyne', the band entertained a large crowd of holiday-makers on Marine Parade. They then accompanied hymns for the RNLI's 'Songs of Praise', finally moving to the lifeboat slipway for the special service of dedication, led by the Vicar of Lyme Regis.

Musical Director, John Powell commented, 'we have had a busy period, but are always delighted to be asked take part in all kinds of celebrations. As the local band, it is particularly good that we can support the RNLI, which does such important and vital work'.

The band's Marine Parade concerts 'Music by the Sea' con-

- Frank does not tie you in to a long contract; confident with their service they provide, they do not ask customers to sign a long three month contract; but instead only require 48 hours notice.

• For every property Frank Property markets, they will provide you with all the marketing tools you need, both printed and online; a high quality sales brochure which includes great photography and, most importantly, a floor plan. It's a fact, buyers love floor plans!

• An internet presence for your property is very important – a big investment has gone into their website and as a result it's getting huge visitor numbers each month. Social media presence is a given and lots of interesting, relevant topics for buyers and sellers are featured on facebook, twitter and the like. They are also attached to most of the important property internet portals.

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE

OvenGleaners welcomes their latest franchisee: Nick Paul – East Devon/West Dorset

We'd like to welcome our newest franchisee: Nick Paul. He will soon be operating in the East Devon & West Dorset areas. We're currently part way through his 2 weeks training and Nick is settling in well to his new venture! Nick is an engineer by trade having spent many years involved in structural engineering projects. After a period away from the industry, Nick decided it was time for a change and starting investigating the franchise market. Having considered many different types of businesses, Nick decided that oven cleaning was the sector for him. Asked why? Nick said "I enjoy meeting people, am practical and like being on the road rather than tied to an office. The huge market and low cost of providing the service means oven cleaning is recession proof. I am impressed with the OvenGleaners cleaning tank because it is much safer to use than the ones provided by the competitors." We are very pleased to welcome Nick to the OvenGleaners network of franchisees. Graham Rogers, franchisor was asked why he felt Nick is a good fit for the OvenGleaners brand and he said "Nick has a friendly, pleasant personality and he will be a real asset to the OvenGleaners brand. He has researched the competition thoroughly and prior to committing to buying the OvenGleaners franchise, he spoke to most of our current franchisees quizzing them on the ins and outs of the franchise. We are particularly impressed with his practical skills and confident approach to starting a new business."

Honda tops annual car reliability survey for the seventh consecutive year

HONDA is celebrating after being named the most reliable used car brand in the annual What Car? and Warranty Direct reliability survey for an unprecedented seventh year in a row. According to the report which Honda has topped since 2005, Honda cars are the least likely to leave passengers stranded by the roadside with just a one in 10 chance of models suffering a breakdown in any given 12-month period – an enviable record.

Chas Hallett, What Car? editor in chief commented "Honda definitely deserve a special mention, seven years at the top of the annual What Car? / Warranty Direct research is a great achievement. When a car leaves the car makers warranty protection it can start to cost the consumer cash and inconvenience, this research highlights that this does not happen often with a Honda".

Warranty Direct's managing director, Duncan McClure Fisher, added: "Honda has continued its spectacular record in the annual reliability study. It has proven its ability over many years to manufacture cars that continue to be extremely reliable beyond the usual three year warranty period. If you are in the market for a used vehicle, our study suggests you should seriously consider a Honda."

Dave Hodgetts, Managing Director, Honda (UK), concluded: "The reliability of our cars is a key focus for Honda as we strive to make every second of Honda ownership an enjoyable experience. This doesn't just start at the manufacturing stage, but is intrinsic throughout the research & development and during the parts procurement process, this focus ensures that we build reliable and high quality cars."

"Success in reliability studies like this, further proves the dedication, skill and passion of our engineers, both at the development and manufacturing stages, and we are incredibly proud to be the most reliable manufacturer in the industry – for an outstanding seven years running."

Lucky number seven
Seven is certainly a lucky number for Honda this year, not only is there seven cars in the range but on top of the seventh What Car and Warranty Direct Reliability Survey result, this is also the seventh accolade awarded to Honda so far in 2012.

The British built Jazz was named Britain's Best Used Supermini by consumer campaigns Which? and it was also given the top spot in the 2012 JD Power owner satisfaction survey's supermini category for the ninth year running. Other wins include the CR-V being named most popular 4x4 in the Honest John Awards, the Jazz Hybrid taking the trophy in the Parkers Cost of Motoring New Car Awards eco car category and the new British built Civic taking the Parkers medium hatchback category, plus it beat all other competitors to take the overall Parkers Cost of Motoring New Car Awards overall title.

The bugs start to fly: new range of Beetle models now on sale

ENTOMOLOGISTS in the UK are set for an exciting day, and not just because the ants are flying. There's another kind of flying bug about: the Volkswagen Beetle with either a 2.0-litre 140 PS TDI turbodiesel engine, or a 2.0-litre 200 PS TSI turbocharged petrol engine.

The latter is enough to propel this bug from zero to 62 mph in just 7.5 seconds and on to 139 mph, while the TDI takes a far from sluggish 9.5 seconds and can reach 123 mph. Of equal interest, however, will be its 57.6 mpg combined economy, and 129 g/km of CO2 rating.

Both new versions are available with a choice of six-speed manual or six-speed DSG gearboxes. The TDI comes in either mid-level Design or top-line Sport trim. The 2.0-litre TSI 200 PS model is available in Sport or special-edition Turbo Black and Turbo Silver specification, complete with 'Turbo' decals in either silver or black along the side, door mirrors in silver or black, the door rubbing strip in body colour (rather than black, as it is on standard Sport models), and 19-inch 'Tornado' alloys.

Specification levels are high. Design trim comes with 17-inch alloy wheels in a choice of two styles, Bluetooth telephone preparation, an RCD 510 DAB CD/radio with MDI multi-device interface (for connecting an iPod or similar), front fog lights, rear Isofix preparation, an alarm, manual air conditioning, multi-function leather-wrapped steering wheel and body-coloured door and dashboard panels.

The range-topping Sport specification adds

18-inch alloys in a choice of styles, tinted glass, cruise control, sports seats, parking sensors, gloss black door mirrors (silver or black on 'Turbo' special editions), gloss black dashboard and door panel and 2Zone electronic climate control.

The 2.0-litre TSI 200 PS Sport model uniquely comes with certain specification highlights over and above all other models. These include: four-link rear suspension, twin chromed exhaust pipes, red brake calipers and a body-coloured rear diffuser.

A wide range of optional equipment is also available on all Beetle models, including Keyless Access, satellite navigation systems, bi-xenon headlights and a selection of different alloy wheel designs.

The option that will make the biggest impact, however, is the Fender sound pack. Developed in conjunction with the eponymous electric guitar firm, this audiophile's delight offers a 400W output and a subwoofer, along with switchable three-colour illumination surrounding the front loudspeakers, all for just £500.

The Beetle is also available with a 1.2-litre TSI 105 PS engine with seven-speed DSG gearbox and a 1.4-litre 160 PS TSI with a six-speed manual gearbox.

These models were restricted by supply at launch but are all now available, many with attractive low-rate finance offers. The new 2.0-litre models are also available to order now, with some models in stock ready for delivery.

D Division

SEATON welcomed lowly Cockington to Court Lane on Saturday, needing to win to keep up with the promotion pack; Cockington knew a loss could mean relegation mathematically.
The visitors won the toss and asked the hosts to make first use of a dry and hard Seaton wicket.

Alex Hunt and Nick Beedell, on his traditional three week holiday to the South west coast from Bristol, put on an opening stand of 105 until Alex Hunt lost his wicket for 23.

Steve Pritchard joined Nick and looked good for 17 before being dismissed. Nick carried on batting superbly and Mark Bray, continuing from a half century last week, also looked very competent at the crease.

Nick brought up his century before being bowled next ball. Mike Wheeler scored a quick 20 and Seaton captain Ben Morgan let Mark scored his second 50 in a week before declaring on 235/4, leaving Cockington 54 overs to score the required 236 to win.

The Cockington reply didn't start too well as Seaton's opening bowlers, Phil Collins and Ben Copp, both took two early wickets each.

After seven overs each the skipper changed the bowling to use it as a bit of match practice as not much cricket has been played in the past four weeks due to the weather.

Joe Berry, again bowling spin continued his fine form and Phil Collins returned to take a five wicket haul as Seaton bowled out Cockington for 120. Collins claimed 5-30 off his ten superb overs, with Joe Berry claiming 3-48 and Copp 2-16 to leave Seaton with 20 points as a result.

Morgan said: "Sometimes it can be hard playing teams who are struggling as some players may take it for granted that it will be easy and therefore not perform, but we stayed positive and strong."

"We have table toppers Yelverton this coming Saturday which will be tough, despite them losing Saturday just gone."

"If we win on Saturday we can end the week top of the table, but again I don't want to get carried away as anything can happen in this division and it's a funny season. We are playing good cricket as a whole and have to keep the team spirit good but not get too confident."

Seaton 235-4dec (N Beedell 100, M Bray 51no), Cockington 120 (I Chamberlain 68; P Collins 5-30, J Berry 3-38). Seaton (20 points) beat Cockington (three) by 115 runs

SOMERSET LEAGUE

Division Eight (South)

ALL Saints went down at home to likely champions Middlezey 2nds. Saints once again lost the toss on a good batting deck, and were left chasing a big score as Webb (74) and Peppard (59) cashed in on the way to 215-7.

Steve Trott (3-34) and Josh Short (3-53) were the pick of the bowlers, although James Nunns had two put down off his bowling and controversially wasn't awarded the wicket of Webb caught behind when he was in his 40s.

In response, Saints struggled despite good knocks by Ron Seward (32), Derek Seward (28) and Steve Trott (21), but the bowling of Purchase (6-29) proved too good as the home side were all out for 140.

The game was one to forget for more reasons than the result though, and with next week's fixture with Spaxton rearranged for September, Saints will be raring to go when they face North Petherton in a fortnight.

Middlezey 2nd XI 215-7 (35 points) beat All Saints 140 all out (14 points)

petanque East Devon

EAST Devon Petanque Club is celebrating a very successful first year of play at its Salcombe Regis home.

The French game of petanque - or boules, as it is sometimes known - is popular in the UK and this has certainly proved the case at the new club.

"We have had a great response to the club," says Club Secretary, Chris Bigmore.

"We have a good membership, which includes people of all ages and abilities. We welcome experienced players and complete novices, we have boules that people can borrow, or they bring their own, and we can show people how to play."

The club has a five lane playing area, or piste, which means up to 30 people can play at any one time. One of the joys of the game is that it is easy to learn, but as players develop it can become very strategic and more challenging.

Players of all ages can challenge each other and win. It is also a good game for wheelchair users who can play against people on foot on equal terms.

"We play on Sunday mornings at 11am, and on Thursdays at 7pm during the summer months. We have plans which include installing flood lighting which will enable us to play in the evenings while the weather lasts.

"We are based at Thorn Park Golf Centre, just off the A3052 a couple of miles from Sidford, and there is ample parking and facilities," added Chris.

The club invites new players of any ability to join and will offer a friendly welcome. Annual membership is £5 per person, with playing fees for non-members are £2 a time, £1 for members.

Call 07952 645319 or email eastdevonpetanque@hotmail.co.uk to find out more.

Garry Perratt completes epic 70-mile East Devon Round run

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

LAST year Sidmouth RC's John Keast and Don Cawthera completed a 70-mile circuit consisting of the East Devon Way and South West Coast Path in just over 20 hours, the first known completion of what has become known as the East Devon Round.

Not one to leave such a feat unchallenged and spurred on by others' recent coast path exploits, Garry Perratt ran away from the pre-Olympic hubbub, setting out from Lyme Regis at six o'clock on Friday evening to beat their time!

He was supported at various points by AVR's Phil Bayliss, Tim Sibley, Robin Carter and James Jackson; Sidmouth RC's John Keast and Virginia Bell; Exmouth Harriers Jon Croome and Mark Thompson and Dartmoor Runner Tony King.

The first part of the East Devon Way (which actually starts in Uplyme since Lyme Regis is in Dorset) went well but by midnight he was so sleepy that he had a kip on a dog blanket on the road in Harpford!

That perked him up a lot and he continued happily over Woodbury Common.

Exmouth was a real drag with its miles of flat roads, after which he needed another brief kip on a cliff top path bench just before dawn which had less effect on his spirits than the earlier one.

The struggle continued over the Sid-mouth and the following switchback to Branscombe Mouth but then he perked up and was actually running some uphill parts of the Hooken Path.

The Undercliff can drag at the best of times but on tired legs after well over 60-miles it was not pleasant, but Garry plugged on, returning to Lyme 18 hours and 18 minutes after leaving it. Back home, bath, light lunch and in bed by 3pm.

Garry remained dead to the world until waking at 2am on Sunday and having to get up because he wasn't at all tired!

He is very grateful to all those who supported him, whether by running or providing refreshments en route.

There are more details on the AVR website for anyone interested in the challenge - sub-18 is very achievable!

GRAHAM Newton ran the Exmoor Seaview 17, a 20 mile run from Lynton to Minehead.

Competitors were bussed from Minehead to the start and then ran back along the coast path.

Rain showers en route made the going very slippery with many runners falling, Graham included.

Beautiful scenery along the way made it a very pleasant but arduous run. He completed in 3:22:21 with the winner finishing much quicker.

Flamingos celebrate league double

THE 2011/12 Honiton Netball League AGM took place at The Heathfield at Honiton and was once again a well attended affair.

The meeting combined the routine league business associated with the annual general meeting and a celebration of both team and individual successes during the previous 12 months.

The committee of the league remained unchanged - a sign of the confidence placed in it by the league members.

Team of the year was undoubtedly the Axminster based Flamingos who were champions of Division One in the winter, and summer league champions as well.

Wasps were the winter Division One runners-up, whilst OPG finished second in the summer league.

The second division winter champions were the Weather Girls with the young Tip Top Trees side being the runners-up.

In the winter Hannah Lee of OPG was the player of the season, this being an award decided by umpire votes at the end of each game totalled up over the season.

The second division player of the year was Tania Broom of JD Tyres, whilst the summer season award went to Tracy Moran of OPG, making it a memorable evening for OPG!

Each year teams are asked to nominate for three other awards and these are announced at the AGM.

This year the Bed Expert Fair Play Award went to JD Tyres; the Axminster

Carpets Umpire of the Year Award to Denise Meyers with the Zoey Spiller Young Player of the Year Award being given to two young players of promise - Harriet Eaton of Tip Top Trees and Kristy Platt from Sidmouth Toucans.

■ THE Flamingos team from Axminster were Honiton Netball League summer and winter champions for 2011/12

■ TIP Top Trees were runners-up in the winter league's second division

■ THE Axminster Carpets Umpire of the Year Award went to Denise Meyers

Unfortunately South Petherton were unable to raise a side for their scheduled mixed friendly at Axminster!

SEATON with Linda Stone

THIS week was very quiet for Seaton Bowls Club. There were several days of competitions for Bowls Devon on the green and no friendly matches at all.

There was, however, excellent news from the Bowls Devon Over 55s men's competition. Roger Woolland beat D.Drew from St. Austell. He will now be competing in the All England quarter-finals taking place in Worthing.

The Ladies played an away match, in the ladies Over 50s league against Crediton Green, which they won, gaining all six points.

Finally congratulations go to Angie Mayhew, Linda Stone and Barbara Thompson who went to Honiton to play in the Triples Invitation competition, which they had won last year.

In a really enjoyable afternoon's play they finished up with a score of +24 and retained the Rose Bowl for a further year.

FENITON with Roger Smith

THE men's Over 60s 'A' team match continued their march up the table with a hard fought win away against Dunksell by 35-30, securing a maximum of eight points.

■ Martyn Eveleigh just pipped David Evans to the title in Feniton's Three Bowl Singles competition

■ Angie Mayhew, Linda Stone and Barbara Thompson of Seaton Bowls Club retained the Honiton club's Triples Invitation Rose Bowl with a score of +24

LYME REGIS with P. Moffitt

IT WAS a full week of games for the Lyme club without interruptions from the weather, in fact at times some players found it quite hot.

Mixed fortunes again in the leagues, the ladies and the 'A' team both securing eight points in their games but the championship side only managed two points away to Alexandra Park.

Ladies Captain, Ann Allman, held her annual Lady Captain's Day on Thursday with invited teams from Axminster, Bridport, Chardstock, Seaton, Westlands and a guest team comprising the president of the Dorset Women's Bowling League and the Vice-President of Bowls Dorset. The competition is played on a 'round-robin' basis with the winning team collecting the Captain's Cup.

Lyme failed to win either of the friendlies being well beaten in their annual fixture against Cardiff. This game was finished off with a BBQ, the players also being treated to the Red Arrows halfway through the game!

HONITON with Andy Wagner

TUESDAY MIXED

IN PERFECT weather, 28 played a Treble Six competition. The winners were Jan Dickinson and Terry Dimond with 36 points.

Their score was helped by Terry driving the green on the 8th; a feat not usually achieved in the Tuesday Mixed.

In second place were Linda McLaughlin and Bob Underwood with 35 points and in third place on count back were Sally Chapman and Bob Barnes with 34 points.

Also with 34 points and coming fourth were Stephani Barnes and Tom Chapman.

LADIES SECTION

ANOTHER busy day on Wednesday with three competitions running at the same time.

The 36 hole Jubilee Cup is gruelling at the best of times, but in tropical heat Jackie Seager did really well to score 71 points (34+37) in this Stableford competition.

Mona Carter was runner up on countback with 64 points (32+32). The winner of the High Six Trophy was Majan Stroud with 33 Stableford points, closely chased by Susan Hyde with 32 points.

In the monthly Stableford Silver Division, Elizabeth Ward did battle with Diana Gee and won on countback with 36 points, while newcomer Janet Hughes showed her colours by coming first in the Bronze I Division with 34 points.

Second place was closely contested but won on countback by Catherine Doherty with 31 points, ahead of Lesley Oxenham in third.

The Bronze II Division division winner was Majan Stroud with 33 points, closely followed by Susan Hyde on 32 points and Jean Moon on 31 points. Linda McLaughlin was fourth with 27 points.

The Christopher Cup winner was also decided this week and the honour in this knockout competition went to Jean Moon with runner up Lesley Oxenham.

SENIORS SECTION

DAVE Beer, with the assistance of Vic Wood, won the Seniors Greensome event with 35 Stableford points.

Making the most of the glorious weather, 72 members turned out for what is not everyone's ideal format, but all enjoyed the day.

Dave Morgan and Howard Clayton took the second spot with 33 points, beating Fred Utting and John Northover on countback.

John Vessey and Ray Cross scored 32, just edging out Mike Jones and Trevor Bradley.

AXE CLIFF with Janet Dack

SENIORS SECTION

THIRTY-SIX seniors took part in the Quarterly Cup on Friday in the first day of the improved weather conditions.

The 15 hole Stableford was won by Nick Povey (20) with 32 points one ahead of two players who tied on 31 points.

On countback Chris Jowett (16) pipped Alan Vincent (19) for second place with Alan having to settle for third spot. However he had the consolation of having one of the two 2s, the other by Leighton Morgan.

Earlier in the week the team travelled to nearby Honiton where the home team had revenge on their minds following their heavy defeat at Axe Cliff in April.

It was a closely fought match with Honiton running out narrow 4-2 winners. The winning combination for Axe Cliff was Geoff Hubbard / Nick Povey, while half points from drawn matches were obtained by John White / Terry Jessup and John Mant / Bryan Dale.

LADIES

IT WAS a fantastic day on Wednesday weatherwise when Axe Cliff Ladies competed for an EWGA Medal together with the third Axe Cliff Cup competition.

Mary's off to a great start

EAST Devon Olympian Mary King, who hails from Salcombe Regis, near Sidmouth, has given the GB equestrian team an excellent start on her horse Imperial Cavalier

Following yesterday's cross country round, the 51-year-old mother of two moved up to second position in the Olympic eventing.

Mary finished the first day of competition - Sunday's dressage round - in third place, with 40.90 penalties.

The oldest British Competitor at London 2012 and now a six-time Olympian, Mary was warmly greeted when she entered the equestrian arena at Greenwich Park on day one of the eventing.

"I was chuffed to bits that he (Imperial) went in there and settled down compared to the world games when he could not control himself," said Mary.

"The tension got to him there and possibly to me a little but I'm very happy. He's a very talented horse. The crowds love him - and so do I."

British team dressage coach Tracie Robinson said Mary's best-ever dressage result would boost confidence for the rest of the team which includes the Queen's granddaughter Zara Phillips.

Mary first competed in the Barcelona Olympic Games in 1992 winning a bronze medal and she also won a team silver at the Athens Olympics in 2004.

Blowers in Axminster

CRICKET commentator and raconteur Henry Blofeld is bringing his one-man show to Axminster.

The evening will be sponsored by West Country Vending with all profits going to the ARC bereavement charity.

Local sports clubs are being given the first opportunity to buy tickets before they go on sale to the public.

Blofeld, famous for his "My dear old thing" expression, will base the evening on stories from his autobiography. The evening will be compered by Philip Evans, editor of Pulman's View.
